The closest prior art of Yamamoto (U. S. Patent 6,078,663) teaches transmitting enciphered data, obtaining the quantities of the enciphered data, and charging a user an amount according to calculated quantities of the enciphered data.

In regarding to independent claims 1, 11 and 15, Yamamoto taken either individually or in combination with other prior art of record fails to teach or suggest receiving, by the cryptographic service provider through a tunnel established by a first key, information and a second key from the user; and applying the cryptographic service to the information using the one or more cryptoservers and the second key to satisfying the contract, wherein the contract is generated between the cryptographic service provider and the user based on a variable pricing scheme of the cryptographic service.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
